OVOLOGISTICS.COM

Dear Team,

As OVO Logistics continues to expand and deliver end-to-end supply chain solutions—from factory floor to customer door—we take immense pride in the critical role each of you plays in shaping the future of global trade.

To support this mission, we are introducing our Code of Conduct, built on three foundational pillars:

Our People, Our Business, and Our Integrity.

These principles define how we operate, guide our decisions, and distinguish us as a trusted leader in the logistics industry.

Our reputation for ethical conduct and reliability is one of our greatest strengths. This Code reinforces that legacy and ensures we consistently deliver exceptional value to our clients, partners, and communities. It governs how we interact internally and externally, reflecting our shared commitment to excellence, innovation, and accountability.

We encourage every team member to read, understand, and embrace the Code of Conduct. If you observe any behavior that does not align with these standards, please report it through our Whistleblowing Hotline. Your voice matters in maintaining the integrity of our organization.

Thank you for your dedication and for helping us uphold a positive, ethical, and world-class work environment. Together, we will continue to set the benchmark for global logistics excellence.

Jeff Smith

Chief Executive Officer
